C. R. Flesher Died Saturday

Heart Attack Was Fatal To County Attorney at His Home Saturday

C. R. FLESHER

Charles R. Flesher, 60 year old county attorney, died at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning at his home 1100 Sixth Avenue. Death came suddenly from heart attack.

A resident of Randall county for 35 years, Mr. Flesher was a native of West Virginia. He was born, July 23, 1884, at Reedy, Roane County, W. Va. The family moved to Missouri when he was a small boy. He attended Missouri public schools. In 1900 he came to Texas, attended North Texas Teachers College at Denton, taught school and then attended the University of Texas where he later received his degree in law.

In 1910 he came to Canyon and joined his brother, W. J. Flesher, in the practice of law. In 1916 he was elected county judge and served two terms. During that time he managed the Liberty Loan Drive and was Food Administrator for the county during World War I. Since that time he has continued to be active in civic affairs.

Judge Flesher and Miss Avis Baird were married in 1916.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. Flesher; two daughters, Billie Bee, a school teacher at Artesia, N. M., and Mrs. Natalie Russell, wife of Lt. Lee Russell, Norman, Okla.; two brothers, J. M. Flesher of Houston and W. J. Flesher of Amarillo; and a sister, Mrs. Ethel Nicewander of Rock Island.

Judge Flesher was a Mason and a member of the Methodist church.

Funeral services were conducted at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Methodist church with Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor, assisted by Rev. Joseph Findley, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating.

Interment was made in Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of N. S. Griggs & Son of Amarillo.

Pall bearers were Guy Harp, W. J. Wooten, T. S. Stevenson, A. B. Holt, Louis Hix, Birch Campbell, Levi Cole and B. F. Machen.

The two boys left Canyon for induction on the same day and were wounded on the same day.

Pfc. Friemel's wife is the former Margaret Beckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beckman.

Correction

The reports of the results of musical organizations entered in the contests of the Music Educators Association last Friday omitted the name of West Texas State High School Girls' Chorus.

The W. T. High School Girls' Chorus, directed by Miss Ada V. Clark, was given Division I ranking. The club received the Association Certificate of Merit and a plaque designating high award.

The report as published on another page of this edition is erroneous.

Vocational Guidance Center Opened at W. T. By W. R. Goins

Purpose of Center Is To Advise and Guide Returned Veterans

Yesterday a new office was opened on the campus of West Texas State College when Mr. William R. Goins arrived to take charge of the United States Vocational Guidance Center, which is now housed in what was formerly the home of the president.

With Mr. Goins will come Mr. John O. Stinnett who will serve as Training Officer. Mr. Stinnett is a veteran of World War II.

According to a publication received recently at the college, 63 of these centers are already in operation but so far as is known the one at W. T. is first to be established in this section of Texas, which is a part of what is known as the Muskogee (Oklahoma) area.

The purpose of these centers is to give advice and guidance to veterans who have suffered service-connected disabilities that are pensionable and constitute vocational handicaps.

While taking courses determined upon after they have had tests and advice at the Guidance Centers, the disabled veterans may be paid pensions amounting to $92.00 a month if single, or $103.00 a month if married.

Mr. C. B. Sherry is Chief of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation in Education of the Veterans Administration with offices at Muskogee. It was Mr. Sherry who visited the campus and negotiated with President J. A. Hill for the location of a center here.

Much of the testing and guidance work will be carried on by members of the college faculty. Since this is a new enterprise, it is not known how many veterans will be served from this campus.

President Hill states that he thinks this a very valuable service and one which the college should be proud to render to the returning soldiers of its region.

V-E Day was observed in Canyon Tuesday with the solemnity that the occasion warranted.

At 11:00 o'clock in the morning one of the largest crowds ever to gather in the First Baptist Church assembled to join in a service of Thanksgiving for victory in Europe and prayer for quick victory in the Japanese theater of war.

Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor of the Methodist church, led in prayer to open the service. Rev. W. F. Phelps, pastor of the Church of Assembly of God, read the devotional. Dr. Roy L. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist Church talked on faithfulness to our responsibility as representatives of righteousness. Rev. Robert W. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian church, talked on post war obligations. Rev. Joseph Findley, pastor of the First Christian Church, used Faith as his theme to elaborate on the task of facing a new world. Each speaker stressed the point that our battle was only half won.

Rev. Phelps gave the benediction.

Faith in the Almighty, confidence in our form of government, energy in working at adjustment of the new way of life sure to follow the conflicting years, appreciation of our neighbors at home and internationally, unity in striving to keep the peace as we have had unity in securing that peace were stressed by the different speakers in such sincere words and expression that those points will stay in the minds of the members of the audience.

About 70 constitutional amendments have been proposed in the Texas legislature. So far only three have passed both branches and will be voted upon in August. The first was to increase the salary of legislators to $3,650 per year; the second to give service men the vote without payment of the poll tax; the third to increase the Supreme Court from three to nine members. Perhaps other amendments will be passed before the end of the regular session. The News has been asked by a number of people for an opinion as to the third amendment. As a matter of fact we now have nine men serving on the Supreme Court. There are two commissions of three members each. These two commissions review cases and write opinions. The opinions are not final until passed upon by the three members of the court. The state is paying nine salaries, so the increase in membership adds no more expense. It rather looks to us as if business of the court would be facilitated if the commission members were elected to the court rather than appointed, as is now the case, with full authority of court members. At least the voters will have more candidates to vote for, and Texans sure like to vote for their public officials.

Well, we've lost the 1945 wheat crop! This is the first loss, so maybe a good rain will revive the crop so that we shall be ready for another loss in two or three more weeks. Wheat fields were examined Friday by wheat experts who declared that there was no chance for much of a crop this year. The Newsman made the square Saturday afternoon, talking with about a dozen wheat farmers in various sections of the county. No two agreed. Some said that their wheat would be short. None agreed with the experts that the outlook was hopeless. You remember that we usually lose the wheat crop about three times before harvest. We have had the first loss, so maybe the case is not hopeless. But seriously, the nation has never needed a good crop more than we need it in 1945. We shall be called upon to feed Europe, and that is going to be a tremendous job.

Maybe the insane Nazi leaders are not so crazy as we have been thinking. Millions of German soldiers and civilians are prisoners of the American armies. We are feeding and clothing them, something that was impossible in their own land. We have thousands of well fed, fat Nazi soldiers in America, who do no work except the little jobs they prefer to do. Some day they will be shipped back to Germany. American engineers are at work cleaning up the terrible mess in Germany and restoring order from chaos. America may be charging Germany for all this service, but we shall never collect a thin dime. While Americans will not suffer by tightening the belt a little, it makes us pretty durned mad to contemplate the food which will be fed to the fanatical Nazis who have caused all this destruction, and to contemplate all of the misery which is being suffered by Americans whose sons are over there trying to straighten up the mess which the Nazis brought on Europe.

They are trying to pin the false peace rumor of 10 days ago on Senator Tom Connally. Perhaps Tom did jump the gun, but who wouldn't under the circumstances? The inside facts are these: Tom is a little peeved at the manner in which the American delegation is handling affairs in San Francisco. When President Roosevelt appointed Senator Vandenberg to the peace delegation, he had in mind the Republication opposition which killed the League of Nations in 1945. Wilson refused to take the Republicans into his confidence. Senator Connally is head of the American delegation, but Roosevelt then Truman have been playing up Vandenberg to such an extent that Connally is said to be peeved. When the peace proposal was made in Europe, Churchill telephoned Anthony Eden in San Francisco to tip off Connally and let him make the announcement. Connally should have been suspicious of such a roundabout method of any peace rumor, but he was taken in, and jumped the gun. No harm was done, other than to vex all Americans that the announcement was not authentic.

President Truman is finding himself in a tight spot. His spot will get tighter as the war progresses. When peace comes, he is going to be forced to make decisions which will break the honeymoon which prevails in Washington. The New Dealers hope that he will continue to be their leader, although they would prefer Wallace. The conservatives believe that Truman will leave his old associates and veer to the right. The Republicans trust that he will still continue carrying water on both shoulders until the peace is assured. The President cannot continue long pleasing all three factions in the nation. In which direction will he go? Your guess is as good as any. Judging from his political background, we guess that he will not be as radical as the leftists demand; nor as conservative as the rightists demand. Will he be able to carry the balance of power between the two? There are great times ahead in our political life.

We are asked to conserve rubber, gasoline and cars by driving carefully, not more than 35 miles per hour. Yet go down the highway and most of the cars are driving 50 miles or more. A small fry official told us the other day that he "cocked 'er back to 80 miles" when on the highway. He is eligible for gasoline and casings, therefore did not mind violating the rule of good sense in times when we are asked to be careful. The highway is not the only place for fast driving. It was a wonder that some one was not killed on the streets of Canyon Saturday from the manner in which there was so much careless driving. To back up this argument, there were 25% more accidents, and 8% more deaths in Texas during April this year as compared with April, 1944. Drivers are going haywire again.

For many months after the war started, it was the common belief of Americans that the people of Germany were not to blame for the rise of Hitler. The development of the past few months makes it clear to all that Germany has sacrificed its right to live as a decent nation among decent peoples. Hitler is dead—so the Germans claim—but the tyrannical treatment of war prisoners went on after his death. Certainly the cruelties which have been exposed could not be the work of only a few Nazis. A hard peace is the only answer to such militarism. This will require the constant vigilance of thousands of soldiers for many years.

We sat in a group of business men the other day from several different towns. Naturally the question of peace was brought up. The position of Russia in regard to Poland and Argentina was in the minds of all. The unanimous opinion was that the position of Russia was sound on these problems. Suspicion was expressed by every man as to the millionaires who are running our State Department. It was the belief of all that Washington was taking orders from Churchill on these matters instead of using its own thinking as to the right or wrong, and the justice of problems involved.

President Truman has won his first battle with Congress. He vetoed a measure which would have deferred farm laborers as a class from Selective Service. The President is right, and the House is to be congratulated in sustaining the veto. As a matter of fact and justice, induction of men into the armed forces cannot be regulated strictly by law. Selective Service must be allowed a free hand. Personally, we agree with the intent of the law and believe that the nation will pay the price in allowing Selective Service to strip the farms of good young farmers. But the facts remain that under changing conditions, Congress cannot meet by law all of these fluid conditions, and therefore Selective Service must have a free hand.

The nation held a united breath over the past week end, hoping that this senseless war in Europe would be ended. To all intent and purpose the war ended last week. But a few Nazi fanatics preferred to hang onto their miserable lives for a few more days. They knew that it would cost the United Nations hundreds and perhaps thousands of lives if they continued the struggles. For them, death was inevitable in either case of continuing the fight, or in surrendering.

7th War Loan Drive Is On!

The Jap Looks at His Partner in Crime

Unless the body of Hitler is actually found and definitely identified, we shall hear unfounded rumors of his fate for many years to come. It will be the business of publicity hounds to keep him alive, in the minds of the people, by circulating wild rumors that he is here, there, or somewhere else. So far as the Nazi report that he died fighting, very few people believe this. He was probably too cowardly to shoot himself, as the report indicates. Does it make any particular difference how he died? Most people would have enjoyed seeing him tried, convicted and shot like any other criminal, but we seem to be disappointed in that.

The height of folly: Some one introduced a bill in the legislature to elect nine members of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas. The Governor appoints the members, who must be approved by the Senate. Fortunately the bill will not get far. We already have too many inactive officers.

You figured it was in the bag, Mister Hirohito!

Yes sir, by this time—so you told the Son of Heaven—your buck-toothed boys would be marching up Pennsylvania Avenue, your fried-egg flag would be flying from the Capitol. And, you figured, the luxury-loving, so soft Yankees would be bowing low before your be-goggled troops.

So sorry to disappoint, Mr. Hirohito! So sorry that honorable timetable has upset!

Yes, you figured that while your rug-chewing pal in Berlin kept us busy in the Atlantic, all YOU would have to do would be to follow up the Pearl Harbor stab with island hops that would bring you clear to our West Coast—and from there it would be just a sleeper jump to Washington.

Well, Hirohito, you know what happened to ADOLF and now it is your turn. What you have gotten so far—the Coral Sea, Midway, The Solomons, The Aleutians and Tarawa—is just a pink tea to what is coming.

Because NOW, Mr. Hirohito, you're going to get the works—and fast! You're going to learn what it feels like to get in front of the biggest battle fleet in the world. You're going to learn—as Berlin learned—how it feels to watch your dreams of empire go up in the flame and smoke of four-ton block-busters. You're going to learn what it means to take a swipe at Uncle Sam when his back is turned.

Mr. Hirohito, you're going to wish you had never even heard of Pearl Harbor!

Lt. Jimmie Carr Is Praised By His Captain

J. A. Carr, father of Lt. Jimmie Carr who was killed in Germany recently received the following letter last week:

"May I extend to you the sincerest sympathy and deepest personal regrets at the loss of your son, 2nd Lt. Jimmie A. Carr, who was killed in action on 15 March 1945 during military operations in France. During the period of Jimmie's service with this company, he proved himself to be, at all times, a faithful and dependable officer. His perseverance, cheerfulness, and willingness to cooperate with his comrades under the most adverse conditions won him many friends within our organization and his passing is deeply felt by all of us.

It may be of some comfort to you to know that your son was given an individual military funeral at which our Protestant Chaplain officiated. His body is at rest in a military cemetery in Eastern France. May God grant at this time that your sorrow and anguish be short lived, and that you may come to accept the loss of your son with a quiet mind and a peacefulness of spirit. Even though our loved ones pass on, in a sense they are still with us. We remember them for what they were and did.

Jimmie's friends, both officers and enlisted men, join with me in expressing the hope that you find the strength of spirit to accept and adjust your life to the loss which has befallen you. Sincerely yours, Glenn A. Goff, Captain, 142d Infantry Commanding, 6 April 1945."

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Next Sunday is Mother's Day, and we shall endeavor to conduct a service appropriate for that occasion. Also, in accordance with President Truman's request, we shall observe this occasion as a day of prayer and our services will be dedicated to our loved ones in the armed forces.

If you have a loved one in the armed forces whose correct address we do not have, please bring us his or her address that day. We want it.

You are invited to be present and help us to observe the day appropriately.

C. C. Armstrong, Pastor.

Somnambulists (sleepwalkers) are known to have written letters, drawn pictures, solved intricate mathematical problems and even played musical instruments while their subconscious mind was forcing them into unconscious action.

Charlie, the printer on the Arkansas country weekly that your columnist edited for a year, was an incurable practical joker. Soon after coming there, I wrote a paragraph criticizing the presence of a wasp's nest in the courtroom and Charley kept running back and forth telling me what he claimed the county judge (a former preacher) had said and then telling the judge what I was supposed to have said in reply—with the result that both of us, being men of peace, dodged each other for two weeks, which is quite a feat in a town no bigger than Piggott.

It was before my advent however that Charley achieved his masterpiece. Piggott was a "dry" town but a prominent citizen, (Jones will do) had left a jug of "corn" in the newspaper office and he'd drop in and take a drink, now and then. To keep out of sight, he would step into the telephone booth and duck beneath the level of the glassed upper half of the door, while quaffing.

This particular day was a July "scorcher" and Jones was in the act of taking a nip when he heard Charley say, "Howdy do, Aunt Sallie" and Jones recognized the shrill reply as coming from the town's most strict of inhabitants. Thinking she would leave in a moment, he remained in his stooped position. But the conversation went on and on. Two or three times, Aunt Sallie would say goodby and then Charley would ask another question. The sweat rolled down the trapped man. At last, farewells were exchanged and Jones staggered weakly into the fresh air, exclaiming, "I thought she never would leave."

Charley roared with laughter—Aunt Sallie hadn't been there at all; Charley, a natural mimic, had carried on the entire conversation! He almost got licked when Jones realized how unnecessarily he had suffered.

No man knows all the answers.

Homer couldn't give the solution to the riddle some boys asked him: "What we caught, we left behind; what we did not catch, we bring with us." The answer was "Lice."

The riddle of the Sphinx was, "What animal walks on four feet in the morning; at noon, on two; and in the evening, on three." The answer to that one is, "Man—who crawls in infancy, walks upright in manhood and, in old age, uses a cane."

Graduate Produces Play—Praised by Foremost Playwright

Fred Short, Sociology major of the class of 1940, has produced a play which has been praised by Thornton Wilder, who is one of America's foremost playwrights.

The play is "Destiny's Children." Mr. Wilder saw it in Italy where it was on a tour sponsored by the American Red Cross for service men.

Mr. Short is head of the speech department at Texas City, Texas. He has been in this position since September 1944.

Since his graduation from W. T., Short has received his master's degree from the University of Texas. He expects to spend the summer studying in New York City. His home is in Amarillo.

"I have a dog that growls, a parrot that swears, a fire place that smokes, and a cat that stays out all night. Why should I want a husband?" the spinster says.

Telephone men working!

When American armies stormed the Ruhr, Robert Lissell, Blue Network radio correspondent, reported:

"I don't think you can go more than half a mile when you're near the front without seeing telephone men working....Most of the time they're ducking incoming mortars, but they do keep the lines intact. When the battalion moves forward to take a new objective, the field telephone and its platoon of linemen move right along with it, and in minutes after the battalion arrives, the battalion commander can talk to his regimental commander directing the operation."

To run this war—from factory to foxhole—takes a lot of complex telephone equipment.

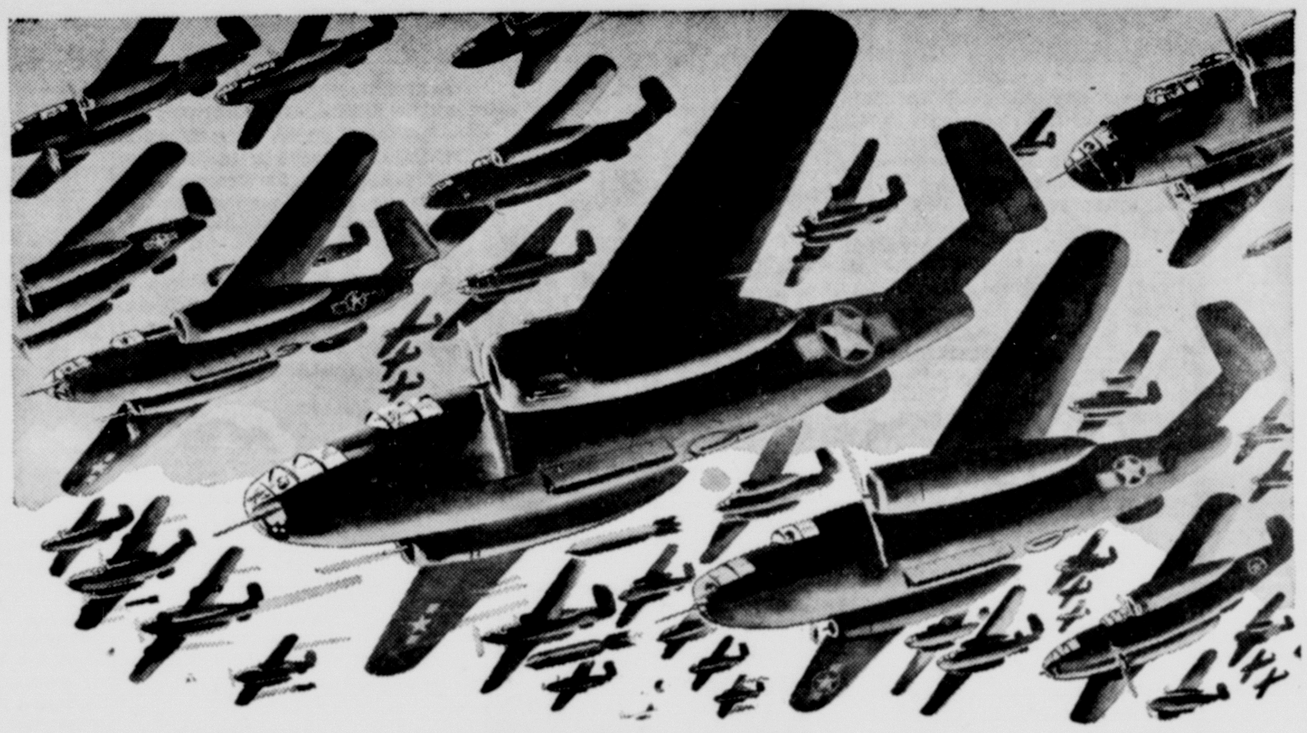
TARGET TOKYO



All the months of training, the foot-slogging under Texas suns are past. And the thousands of hours, shift upon shift, on the air craft assembly lines, bright as day behind the black-out windows, the bond rallies, the thinning store shelves in the great cities, the sweating backs and aching muscles on the farm, the distant wailing whistles as the long freight trains speed west—all these have led to this moment. Now the moment is here.

Iron ore from Minnesota just a few months ago, copper from Montana, bauxite from Arkansas, and soy beans from California—and insurance men, students, lawyers, farm boys and grocery clerks from all the 48 states—now they are skilled men and glittering lethal machines.

For this is the pay off. This is the final link in the chain that began with brown meat stamps, gas coupons, salvage baskets, the posters on the factory wall and the scrawled signature in the recruiting office. This is the final mold for victory. Now the future is at hand.

All night long the dust swirls on the landing fields. All night long the machines take off into the sky. The gulls on far Pacific islets hear them coming. The wings black out the moon. Before dawn they will be over their objective. By sunrise the islands of Deceit will have become the islands of Doom.

The day when these huge bomber fleets take off relentlessly on their great mission is the day when Japan will know she has lost the war. Every ounce of energy America possesses, every bit of skill at her command is being used to speed its coming. When it comes, it will mean final victory.

That day still lies in the future. But it is nearly here.

"Uh-huh."

"And you thought of me, John?"

"Yep," replied John. "I said to myself, 'Why, I remember—this is where what's-her-name lives!'"

Borger Presbytery Approves Chapel Project of W. T.

The chapel project received another boost on April 23 when there was a meeting of the Presbytery at Borger and that body expressed its opinion of the proposed chapel. After having the plans of the chapel discussed to the Presbytery, a recommendation was made as follows:

"We recommend that the stated Clerk be authorized to send a letter to Dr. J. A. Hill, commending the college for the fine spirit and thought manifested in their plans to erect a place of worship upon the college campus, and that we as a Presbytery trust that the citizens of the Panhandle will support them in this worthy object."

Rev. Robert W. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Canyon, is Stated Clerk for this Presbytery and it was he who wrote the letter received by President Hill.

Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo, has given much helpful advice in connection with the proposed chapel building.

Don't Worry, Ma

By ELLIS K. BALDWIN

McClure Syndicate—WNU Features.

SERGT. JIMMY GRAHAM sat slouched over the writing table in the Post Exchange gnawing at the end of his fountain pen. He hated writing letters as much as his mother loved to receive them. It wasn't so hard at first but now he was running out of things to say. The only piece of news he could think of was something you couldn't put down on paper. The commanding officer had given strict orders about that.

Jim's nostrils twitched. The memory of the spicy aroma in his mother's kitchen took him across the miles to Burtonville. She was standing beside the stove with a long spoon stirring a batch of apple butter the day he broke the news.

"Enlisted? Jim, that's fine," she said firmly, pushing back a strand of graying hair which clung moistly to her flushed cheek. "The Grahams have all been good soldiers," she sang out as she cut a thick slice of fresh bread and loaded it generously with the delicious brown concoction.

He had noticed her fingers tremble ever so slightly when she handed it to him. Jim came from a family of fighting men, right back to Great-Grandfather Ebenezer who carried a musket in 1812, she reminded him, as if he didn't know it. He knew too they had all returned. Every one of them except his own father.

That accounted for Ma's trembling fingers. "Put a Graham in a cage with man-eating tigers and nothing but his bare fists and he'd battle his way out somehow," she'd often said proudly. But when she read headlines about shipwrecks and sinkings Jim saw the color drain quickly from her face.

Jim's sister wrote him, "Ma took on something awful after you left. She's not afraid you can't handle yourself at the front. I guess you know what she does fear."

His letters arrived home steadily at first. When he was assigned to the job of instructor and it looked as if he would stay on this side for the duration, Ma grew calmer.

The letters, he knew, meant a great deal. Ma read them to almost anyone who would listen. She always said: "A good son writes regular."

Jim's pen scratched methodically across the paper. He put in a paragraph about the weather and, remembering regulations, crossed it out. His next was dated four days later. He looked around at the other guys writing relatives and sweethearts. He envied the way they kept the words flowing. "They're going at it like a final examination and as if they knew all the answers," Jim told himself.

Fascinated, he watched the sandy-haired corporal beside him. He had a nose upturned like a teakettle snout. Unconsciously Jim chewed his tongue as he wrote. "What you telling them, Corporal?" he asked.

"Here, have a look." A sly gleam lighted the corporal's eyes.

Jim read a few lines and laughed aloud. It was perfect. The description of the screwball fellow who worked in the big kitchen was better than a candid photo. "Mind if I copy a little? Ma would get a laugh out of this."

Writing was easier after that. Jim swapped with other fellows.

The letter marked the seventeenth was a cinch. He found a movie magazine on the reading table. It reviewed the film he'd seen at the camp theater the night before. Only as he copied the plot he kept thinking of the time his mother took him to the Bijou in Burtonville. She had bought his first long pants that day.

His wrist ached now. There ought to be one more, but he was stuck. Then across the room next to the juke box he saw the schedule of activities posted for the entire month. "We don't lack variety," he wrote feverishly. "Everything from boxing matches to radio stars. Kate Smith is coming." The bones in his hand felt like burning coals when he ended. "Don't worry about me, Ma. They're treating me grand."

Quickly he addressed six envelopes. Then he folded his missives and tucked them in. A moment later he was grinning happily beside the Post Exchange counter, licking the flaps. To the man there he said: "Can you space these so she'll get one about every four days?"

Once he was across, he knew, Ma wouldn't worry, because she realized when a Graham finally got into combat he could take care of himself.

Sugar rationing has caused much experimentation in the use of other sweetening for cooking. Molasses, honey, corn syrup, and dextrose make good substitutes.

For one cup of sugar use two cups of syrup or of dextrose. For each cup of syrup used, use one-eighth cup less liquid.

When using honey in the place of sugar, use one cup of honey for one cup of sugar and reduce the liquid one-fourth cup for each cupful of honey used. Measure honey in a greased or moist cup so that it will pour easily.

Use a low-moderate temperature between 350 and 375 degrees F. when baking a dough or batter containing honey because mixtures made with honey brown easily, and high temperature will change the flavor.

Use honey to flavor and sweeten fruits, beverages, cereals, or frozen desserts. For sandwich fillings mix honey with chopped dried fruits, cream cheese, chopped orange peel, or peanut butter.

Half sugar and half molasses may be used in recipes for chocolate cookies, cakes, and puddings, apple, pumpkin and sweet potato custard puddings and pies. If brown sugar is not available, mix one part of molasses with four parts of granulated sugar. A tablespoon of molasses stirred into a glass of milk and then poured over cereal, either cooked or ready-to-eat, adds nutritional value besides flavor.

Meyer Discusses Color Relations

Class Members Prepare Junior-Senior Banquet

Junior class members have again entertained the seniors and other guests with the annual Junior-Senior Banquet and dance. This year's affair, a Rainbow Rendezvous, began in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church with the banquet and program.

Rev. Robert W. Jones, Presbyterian minister, issued the invocation. Ray McDonald, junior class president, extended his class's welcome and best wishes. Harold Erwin, senior class president, gave the response.

Dinner Served

After the opening speeches, the group ate dinner which consisted of fruit cocktail, fried chicken, parsley potatoes, green beans, beets, congealed salad, hot rolls, butter, iced tea, ice cream, and cake. Miss Anita Davis played the piano softly during the meal.

Ray, as master of ceremonies, introduced Supt. J. B. Speer who talked on "Are We at the End of the Rainbow?" Mr. Speer expressed his belief that we certainly are not. Ellen Sanders played an accordion solo, "Over the Rainbow."

Meyer Delivers Address

Dr. A. M. Meyer gave an address which denoted the relation the rainbow and spectrum have to a high school graduate's new life.

Bonnie Drake, Pauline Ruthart, and Johnnie Wallen, the Rainbow Trio, sang "I'm Confessin'." Ray then dismissed the group to go to Cousins Hall for the dance.

Go to Cousins Hall

Decorations in the dining hall carried out the rainbow theme with paper rainbows at the ends of the tables and vari-colored candles flanked by bowls of tulips in the center of the tables. Individual place settings were accentuated with pink nut cups, place cards and memory books trimmed in gold.

As the seniors entered Cousins, they were completly surprised to find that the evening's music was being played by a band, the College Swing Band under the direction of Mr. Glenn Truax.

Multi-colored curtains at the windows, different colored light bulbs, and the colors of the rainbow in crepe paper over the band stand added to the colorful atmosphere of the occasion. On the east wall of the ballroom were the words, "JUNIOR-SENIOR—1945" in large gold letters.

For the occasion, Mrs. J. F. Wallen, and Mrs. A. W. Harding made punch which was served during the dancing.

Mrs. Kate Brewster, junior sponsor, was presented with an orchid by her class.

TO THE JUNIORS

May we take this opportunity to tell you how wonderful we think the banquet was and how much we appreciate the pleasant evening. There certainly is no doubt that it was the nicest affair that we have attended in high school.

We certainly do realize the expense that you went to to make the banquet the swell thing that it was. That music completely swept us off our feet. The band was the first for most of us.

To conclude this—it couldn't have been better. Thanks loads!

Sincerely,
The Seniors.

Some Wolves Won't Whistle at Pin-ups

Charlie, a little stranger, came to school last Monday and made a big hit with all the girls. He couldn't walk or talk but he had no trouble getting around because everyone wanted to hold him.

Charlie, a baby coyote, was brought to school by a seventh grade boy and given to Marilyn Small who carried him around with her all day.

Someone must have embarrassed little Charlie because after the fifth period he put all four paws over his eyes and refused to remove them despite much coaxing.

Lt. E. W. Woods, with his family, was in Canyon visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Simms and friends. E. W. is in the Marine Corps and has been all over the Pacific. He has stars for two major theaters of war, the Marine Air Medal and the Presidential citation. He was in the first fighter squadron ever to fly from a carrier. E. W. will report back to the marine air base in San Diego.

Lt. Glen Persons is a first lieutenant in the infantry and has been wounded four times. He is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Persons, and his wife and baby.

Gunners mate Clifford Abbott is home after being in the Southwest Pacific, Iwo Jima, Siapan, and Okinawa. His ship is in dry dock in Seattle, Washington.

Picnics Conclude Class Activities

Spring Excursions Include All Canyon High Groups

Mrs. Burney Slack, Mrs. Terrell Christian, Mrs. C. O. Elkins, and Mrs. L. C. Ponder, eighth grade roommothers, and Mrs. Cecil Simms, sponsor, helped with the picnic held at the Country Club Friday. Mr. J. B. Hickman furnished transportation for the class by taking his truck.

After a lunch of pork and beans, olives, pickles, potato chips, sandwiches, punch, and cookies, the eighth graders hiked and rode horses during the remaining time.

Mrs. B. A. Burrus, Mrs. W. W. Nicklaus, Mrs. Fred M. Standley, and Mrs. Alfred Bellah will assist the freshmen at their picnic at the Country Club today.

Juniors will be guests of the sophomores at a picnic to be held tomorrow at the Gordon-Cummings picnic grounds. Refreshments will consist of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, cookies, soft drinks, and ice cream.

Gordon-Cummings was also the site of the seventh grade picnic yesterday.

Grade Notes

Activities in Canyon Grade School slowed down last week as teachers gave tests and prepared for the ending of the school term.

Carol Ann Holt was narrator of an operetta written and presented by the students of Mrs. H. P. Doughty's third grade this afternoon in the high school auditorium. Pupils and guests returned afterwards to the classroom for a Mother's Day tea at which gifts were presented to the mothers and roommothers.

After a skating party Friday Teddy Howell and Dorothy McReynolds served refreshments to the members of 5W under the sponsorship of Mrs. A. L. Walsh.

Mrs. John Davis' sixth grade students skated in the grade school gymnasium yesterday and were served refreshments.

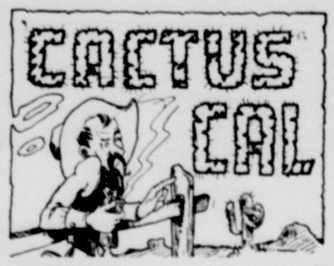
19th Year | Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School | Thursday, May 10, 1945



After so many picnics and more sun burns I'm back on the job. The job of diggin' dirt and printin' it. Quite a few surprises are in store for you so lend an ear and see what you can learn.

That senior picnic certainly brought to the light some new characters. For instance here's a couple of 'em or four. I hear Mary Lou Gunter and Bruce Albers had fun and also Helen Woods and Charles Ray Kelso.

Is it her red hair or what? We'd like to know. Anywal Mary Frances Colwell and Don Standley really had fun on the Senior picnic!

Ray McDonald and Lee Mann certainly hit it off from the start don't you think? Couldn't say but I think it was love at first sight!

What do you know? Mable Ann Graham and Benny Pyeatt say they haven't had a fight all year. That's quite a record.

Donal Iverson did all right on the senior trip. He was with eight girls most of the time. Or was it the girls that are doing all right?

Betty Brown certainly has the technique or something! Anyway she can't find room in the week for all her dates it seems, so she has to go with two different boys in one night. Anyway that's what happened Thursday night. Now let's see. Is that good or is that bad?

Malady Attacks CHS Seniors This Spring

There is a certain disease that begins to show symptoms of attacking seniors during the middle of the last year that they are in school. This malady is very contagious and is contracted by everyone in some phase of high school life (with the exception of the seventh and eighth graders, freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.) The disease is commonly called "senioritis" and affects the aphrodite of the exlectum tetorium (better known as the head).

Senioritis usually may not be diagnosed accurately until late spring or early summer. It is particularly noticeable in the swelling of the head, when the 6½ hat, bought earlier in the year, is entirely too small. Sometimes this disease induces the tongue to form words like "rawther" instead of the ordinary "rather." In the heat of an attack Dad is "The old man," and Mother is "old-timey." Teachers, also, "simply don't know anything." This trouble usually runs its course by the following year, when the victim is just another "fish" in college.

Canyon High Has Various Guests

Because of the Band Contest, Canyon High had several visitors who were band students from Horace Mann and Senior High in Amarillo, and from the Hereford schools, Friday morning.

I. H. Turney, for nine years superintendent of the Tulia schools, visited Canyon Schools, ate in the lunchroom, and liked the food and general management of it. Commenting on the Canyon High School Eagle's Tale, Mr. Turney stated, "I'm sure your paper is top's. It generally ranks high."

Mr. Chester A. Strickland, superintendent of White Deer Schools for six years, visited CHS last week, also.

Canyon High had several other visitors last Monday, from Dr. Harris M. Cook's class in supervision at the College. They were Mr. Curtis Kelley, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Cole, Miss Hensley, and Miss Ferguson.

AAUW Tea Holds Annual Spotlight

Senior girls of Canyon High and W. T. High Schools gathered at Stafford Hall for the annual formal A. A. U. W. tea Monday evening at 8:00.

Class sponsors of both schools together with the officers of the A. A. U. W. formed the receiving line as the visitors arrived.

From a lace covered table set with crystal and decorated with spring flowers, the guests were served cake and punch. Guests used the remainder of the evening to become better acquainted.

Lack of Mattress Causes Lengthy Night of Unrest

Leaving Friday morning at eleven o'clock, the senior class started for the Baptist Encampment at Ceta Glen where the spring picnic was held Friday and Saturday.

Each member of the class carried his lunch for Friday and a bed roll for Friday night. Upon arrival everyone found the weather a little cold, but soon everyone had forgotten the weather and swimming was the activity that took the lime light with the temperature two degrees above freezing.

Eat Lunch

After eating lunch the class members participated in the various activities of hiking and wading to the falls, baseball, football, and swimming.

At seven o'clock the dinner bell rang and everyone reported to the mess hall for the evening meal. Following dinner the fun began again with football and more hiking.

Floors Uncomfortable

With the elimination of inner spring mattresses and springs everyone slept well on the hard floors and a few quilts. Upon entering the girls dormitories the girls found the most horrifying frogs on their beds. The solution to the problem to how they got there hasn't as yet been solved.

Most of the boys slept on the ground out in the open spaces. During the night, while some of the boys went for a drink of water, quilts changed hands, the result being that the majority of the boys shivered from cold and were kept awake by the howls of coyotes nearby, while four fellows slumbered comfortably rolled in most of the covers in the hills. Some students remarked that they slept as long as three hours.

Mice Disturb Peace

At five o'clock Saturday morning more excitement occurred in the girls' dormitory. Several of the girls encountered two mice which proved to be very annoying by biting people in the back. Finally a decision was made to leave the light on so the mice would go away; however, they stayed, and soon everyone was sound asleep.

At eight o'clock Saturday morning breakfast was served to forty-nine hungry seniors, then the regular routine of having a good time, which included the taking of motion pictures of the students of the class, started again.

Return Saturday

Returning home at four o'clock Saturday afternoon with blistered backs and faces the seniors were tired but happy.

Mrs. Leatha Lehnick and Mrs. Eva Furlow prepared and served well balanced meals during the week-end picnic.

Mrs. Dan Sanders, sponsor of the class, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lair, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Oliver, Mrs. C. T. Thurman, and Mrs. Gladys Haines chaperoned the seniors on their spring outing.

According to the latest word received from the Taylor Engraving Company, the Canyon High School Annual, "Soaring Wings" will go on sale May 15.

Jack Sessums enrolled in the seventh grade in Canyon High School on May 2. He formerly attended school at Lubbock.

County Gets Income From Buffalo Lake

Randall County's share in proceeds from the Tierra Blanca Land Utilization Project will total approximately $618 for the year, according to the USDA Soil Conservation Service Annual Report recently released by Walter J. Caserta, supervisor of the local lakes projects.

The county's part represents one-fourth of the total revenue derived from the project and is given in lieu of taxes normally collected on lands included in the project area.

Of the amount to go into the county treasury, $173.30 was derived from grazing permits for the 3,783 acres set aside to afford seven months of grazing to 381 head of cattle, or a total of 2,179 cattle unit months. Preference in issuance of grazing permits is given co-operators with soil conservation districts.

Recreational facilities netted more returns for the county than any other project activity, with $395.42 accredited to that source. The area is becoming popular among sportsmen and considerable increases in the number of persons taking advantage of recreational facilities are noted in the report.

There was an 11 per cent increase in fishing, a 43 per cent increase in the number of persons using boating facilities, and an increase of 22 per cent in the number of persons using swimming facilities. A revenue increase of 53 per cent is recorded from the increased use of swimming facilities.

The report reveals that 28 per cent more persons used the cabins in the project area to give an 18 per cent increase in revenue from cabin rentals during the year.

Boat rentals, fishing facilities, and cabins were available to the public during the entire 12-months period. Favorable weather permitted an early opening of the various other recreational facilities for the intensive-use season, with approximately 40,000 persons attending the opening celebration on April 30.

In general the annual report indicates that the various phases of project activities were utilized more successfully and efficiently than at any time since the beginning of the war.

The Mountain that became a Gold Mine!

... and the company that has helped build 11,000,000 war-time tires

This pile of discarded automobile tires (the picture was taken in 1936) is as non-existent today as the Big Rock Candy Mountains—where the cigarettes grew on trees and the springs gushed pure lemonade.

Maybe you remember driving past those junk yards where the homeless jalopies used to rust in the rain, and the pile of tires grew mountain-high.

In a few terrible moments, America's access to the raw rubber of the Indies was cut completely. Throughout America, junk yards, garages, and back yards were scoured for every scrap of precious rubber that could be found. We were on a spot—a bad one.

The fact that we got off the spot is due, to a great extent, to companies such as Phillips. For it was Phillips chemical research ability and Phillips production facilities that produced an important share of the vital butadiene which is so essential to the manufacture of synthetic rubber!

Today, we think we have a well-earned right to stick out our chests—because the Phillips Petroleum Company is one of the largest producers of butadiene in the United States!

With today's ever-increasing emphasis on the chemical production of new and better things from petroleum, let the Phillips 66 Shield remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

Girls Accused of Acting as Decoys To Rob Soldiers

Yanks in England Lured to Secluded Places and Looted of Money.

READING, ENGLAND. — Two girls, one aged 19 and the other 15, were alleged here to have been used to decoy American soldiers to secluded spots, where they were assaulted and robbed.

Nine Canadian soldiers were committed for trial on charges of robbing with violence members of the United States forces.

In the dock were Pvt. A. Hurst, 32, Pvt. Leon Daigle, Gunner George Alex Patterson, Pvt. Neil McVicar McQueen, 24, Pvt. Joseph N. Furlotte, 21, Pvt. L. J. Gallant, 26, Pvt. T. B. Rose, 23, Sapper P. J. Hickey, 25, and Sapper W. D. Kerfoot.

Eileen Florence Hayter, 19, of Brunswick road, Tottenham, and a 15-year-old girl of no fixed home were charged with being concerned, but E. G. Robey, prosecuting, said it was essential, in the interests of justice, that they should be witnesses, and they were discharged.

Accused of Robbing Corporal.

Hurst, Daigle and Patterson were first charged with robbing with violence John Edward Barr, a United States army corporal, of a wallet and other articles, worth $45.

Barr alleged that a young woman whom he did not know spoke to him in the street and suggested that they should go into the park. He was then attacked from behind.

Detective Jenkins alleged that while detained by the police as an absentee Daigle volunteered the information that he and the other two men told a girl named "Eileen" that they were broke, and that she was to pick up an American soldier and take him to the park, after which they would come and "do" him.

Eileen Hayter said she acted as decoy because she was frightened of the three men.

Similar decoy methods were alleged to have been employed by McQueen and Furlotte to rob Pvt. Albert Gerald Combetty.

Lured Into a Passage.

Combetty told the court he was inveigled into a passage by Miss Hayter and attacked from behind.

When Gallant and Rose were charged with robbing Lieut. William Murray of a wallet containing $40, the officer said that he had "more drinks than were good for him," and two girls spoke to him between 10 and 11 p. m., and walked with him to the railway station.

He next remembered speaking to the military police. His face was badly bruised and he spent the night in a military hospital.

In the last case, Sappers Hickey and W. D. Kerfoot were charged with robbing Sergt. Charles Alexander Cook of the United States air force, of about $5 in cash, a bunch of keys, and some cigarettes.

Sergeant Cook alleged that two Canadians "biffed" him in the face in a side street after he had visited a public house (saloon) with Hayter.

Hayter alleged that Kerfoot told her to "get hold of an American soldier." She ran away after the alleged assault.

Hayter was later remanded in custody on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes, and the 15-year-old girl remanded in custody at a juvenile court.

Divorcee Tosses Wedding Ring Out Court Window

DORCHESTER, MASS. — When Mrs. Ellen T. Van Orden, of Dorchester, walked out of the courtroom a free woman, after winning her divorce from Chester Van Orden, she pushed up a window of the court corridor and gleefully tossed her wedding ring to the winds.

As the thin gold band sailed into the air, she marked the end of her marital relations from Van Orden whom she said used her for a "punching bag" even after he had been served with divorce papers last June.

Bank Roll Is Gone, but Cheers Doesn't Offer Any

LOS ANGELES.—William Cheers didn't offer any when he reported to police that he had been made the victim of a clip game.

Cheers, from Clipper, Calif., told officers he met a girl who offered to show him the town and suggested he let her safeguard his $39 bankroll from possible pickpockets.

Then, he said, she excused herself to "do a little powdering."

The powder, Cheers added, was the runout variety.

He Has Good Memory for Freight Car Numbers

MACON, GA.—A. L. Causey, Central of Georgia railroad conductor, may have difficulty remembering names, but when it comes to numbers on freight cars, well, that's a different story. Causey, who admits he "can never remember people's names," won a gray mule on a bet recently by rattling off the numbers of 89 cars of a freight train. He didn't collect, though, because, he says, the other man "was so astounded that he forgot to give me the mule."

Once a man leads a woman to the altar his leadership ends.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT THE 7th WAR LOAN

THE 7th WAR LOAN starts May 14. Americans as individuals are taking on their biggest quota to date—7 billion dollars, 4 billions in E Bonds alone.

You may be wondering, "Why this biggest of all individual quotas now? Haven't we already reached the peak?"

A fair question—requiring a straight answer.

The Money Is Needed for War

The Battle of Japan has just begun. It must be backed up, paid for, fought for by a free people, intent on sweeping the Pacific clear of fascist hate—forever.

With the war in the West our first and major concern, we have not yet been able to go all-out in the East. But neither has the Jap.

The war to crush Japan will be bigger, tougher, and longer than most Americans expect. The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months.

The destruction of Japan's armies has not yet reached the annual rate of normal replacements—between 200,000 and 250,000 men a year. And the Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, fights to the death.

As far as Japan is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle of Japan from inside the inner Empire, of which Iwo Jima was an outpost. And Iwo Jima, according to Admiral Nimitz, was a pattern of the resistance our forces may expect to meet in future offensives.

New Tasks, New Needs

The single greatest obstacle to our crushing of Japan is distance. While in the Battle of Europe supply ships from our bases in England had only an overnight run to make, ships in the Pacific have long-reach round trips taking up to 5 months to make.

To crush Japan will take time, heroic and back-breaking effort, overpowering equipment.

Millions of fighting men—freshly outfitted and equipped—will have to be moved from Europe halfway around the globe and supplied day-in, day-out by hundreds of new ships now building.

More of everything will be needed. More B-29's. More tanks, half-tracks, jeeps, and trucks. More rockets, mortars, airborne radar.

A whole new air force is in creation—huge new bombers dwarfing the Superfortress—fast new jet-propelled combat planes, the P-80 or "Shooting Star," coming off the lines by thousands.

These are just some of the 101 ways in which your dollars are needed more than ever to bring America's might to its full strength—so that we may crush our foe the faster, make an end of killing, and bring our men back home.

And Lest We Forget

The sick, wounded and disabled will require medical attention and care.

Many millions of dollars will be required for mustering-out pay and benefits voted by Congress to help our veterans get started again in civilian life. That's the least we can do in return for what they've done for us.

Winning the Peace

There are other weighty reasons for supporting the 7th War Loar reasons that take us from the present to the future.

By investing in the 7th War Loan, the patriotic American is safeguarding his own future, his country's future.

By putting every dollar over rock-bottom expenses into the purchase of War Bonds, he is delivering a body blow to wartime Inflation—thus putting a lid on the cost of living and maintaining intact the purchasing power of the dollar. At the same time, too, he is insuring the country and himself against the catastrophe of a possible postwar deflation—with its depression, unemployment, misery, and heartache.

So save for your country—save for yourself. In helping your country, you are also helping yourself! Come peace, we'll all need money for education, replacements, retirement, new homes, a new start—and we'll need a lot of it. And there isn't a better or safer highroad to your goal than United States Savings Bonds.

Making 2=3

This year there will be only two War Loan Drives, not three. But in those two drives the Government will have to raise almost as much money from individuals as in the three drives last year. That means bigger extra bonds in the 7th. Because only by buying more can we make 2 take the place of 3.

The 26 million Americans who buy bonds on payroll savings are already off to a flying start! These patriotic men and women began their buying in April. And they will keep on buying extra bonds through May and June!

It's now up to the rest of us. It's our turn to swing in line. To raise the vast sum needed every American will have to dig deeper into current income—dig deeper into cash reserves. Only by buying bigger extra bonds can we stretch 2 into 3!

If you have an income, whether from work, land, or capital, you have a quota in the 7th War Loan. Find out what that quota is—and make it!
